

Have You Lost Your Marbles?

Embrace the fear . . .
and Just Jump! out of your comfort zone and into your infinite potential!

Complimentary Article

January 6, 2008

Have You Lost Your Marbles?

When you are at your very best, wouldn't you agree that you produce your very best results? Absolutely! Imagine you have a cup full of marbles. They are very handsome marbles and everyone you know wants one. Your children ask for several and you lovingly give them out whenever they ask. Your boss asks for one or two. Your spouse sneaks a couple. Your friends ask for more and more. Then the time comes for you to play your very own game of marbles and when you reach down to pull one out of your cup, it's empty. Frustrated at the emptiness left for you, you aren't even equipped to play a game for yourself. Furthermore, you have nothing left to give. To your loved ones. To your colleagues, but most importantly to your self.

In 2008, Johnna Johnson & Co. is committed to providing you with 52 weekly e-tips you need to keep your cup full of inspiration for you so you are energized and equipped to be the best you that you can create in 2008. Consider our 2008 free weekly e-tips as your Personal Makeover of the Year! Are you ready to join us? Do you know others who need us too? If so, forward this to a friend!

Your challenge on this very important week is to realize that you, and you alone, are solely responsible for your results. Period. Not your parents. Not your past. Not your doctors. Not your children. Not your spouse. Not your boss. Not your siblings. Not your friends. Not your coach. Not your pets. You. You alone are responsible for your life, your attitude and your results. Are YOU ready to take life by storm and create it, mold it and build it the best you possibly can? I am too so let's get started. Right now, accept responsibility for where you are and who you've become. It is what it is. You can't change the past but you can certainly influence the future. Today, accept responsibility for taking control and realizing that you are an incredible being with everything you need to be a phenomenal success. You said you are ready to be the very best you can be and it starts this very moment. The next 51 weeks, you'll experience a complete makeover of your "self" and focus on taking courageous action towards your best year EVER!

Visit Us Online At:
JOHNNAJOHNSON.com
to sign up for our free
weekly e-tips, download great articles and to register for our free
quarterly events! It's all part of our mission to provide you with
uncommon inspiration,
education and tools for remarkable transformation!

Nurture· Renew· Awaken

Executive Women's Retreat
September 2008

JOHNNAJOHNSON & Co.

Office | 208.376.3634
ContactUs@johnnajohnson.com
www.johnnajohnson.com